

meaningful conversations in authentic spaces

debra chosen

host & presenter media kit introducing debra

the interviewer behind transformational conversations

Debra Chosen is an expert interviewer, presenter and podcast host who specialises in drawing out powerful stories and transformative moments. She's driven by a passion for creating spaces where stories unfold naturally and meaningfully. Known for merging thoughtful storytelling with honest conversations, Debra's interview style is described as "immersive", "authentic", and "sincere".

As the host of the acclaimed podcast "Trusting The Process" - the show that's here to help you journey well, Debra's mission is to uplift and empower, one conversation at a time. Her commitment to highlighting the journeys of remarkable women encourages others to strive for their highest and fullest selves.

A trusted voice within events and media, Debra brings seasoned expertise to every moment she hosts, whilst making space for honest, impactful dialogue that lingers long after the conversation ends.

Whether hosting an interview, moderating a panel, or presenting on camera, Debra brings clarity, curiosity, and care to every exchange – making her a sought after voice in the world of hosting and presenting.

watch showreel

work with debra services

Partner with Debra to hold your next big conversation. Debra is available to deliver the following services:

- "In Conversation With" style interviews
- Panel moderation
- Event hosting
- Red carpet presenting
- Press junkets

Looking for something a bit more custom? Let's talk. We're always keen to tailor these services to your needs.

areas of expertise

As a multi-faceted host and presenter Debra is well-versed in facilitating a variety of conversations. In particular, she is deeply passionate about the following:

- Women empowerment
- Personal development
- Business/Entrepreneurship/Careers
- Film/Entertainment
- Creativity
- Success stories
- Books/ Authorship
- Beauty/Fashion

host of TRUSTING^{the} PROCESS

Trusting The Process is the podcast that's here to help you journey well. Through honest conversations with remarkable black women, the show gives insight into their journey, in the hopes of inspiring each listener to chase their dreams and fulfil their purpose.

Since launching in 2018, the show exists to tell our full stories beyond the highlight reel, whilst unpacking the process of becoming. After eager anticipation, the podcast now returns for Season 3 with a brand new look, new stories and the same mission – to help you trust the process.

ON MY MORNING DRIVES ★★★★★

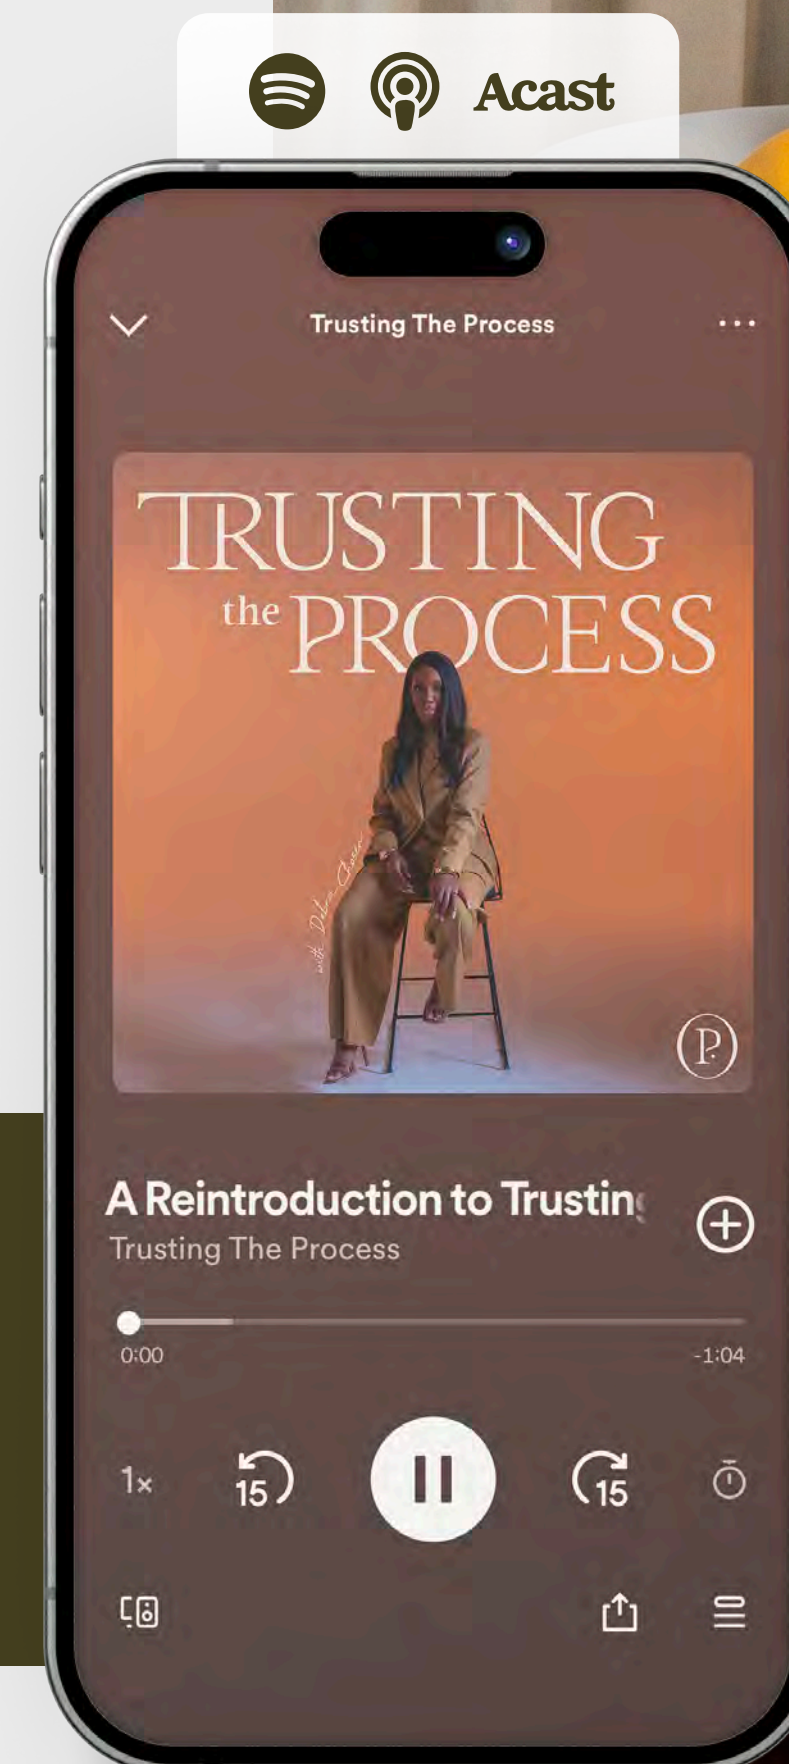

This is such a soothing podcast to listen to on my morning drives to work. The content is always pure and the journalistic skills always good. Absolutely love it.

60k+
total downloads

7k+ listeners

91%
women

25-34
primary age range

what clients have to say

“ Debra is great as a host. What I like about Debra is how she picks out the common threads between all the guests, and how she joins them together seamlessly. When you see things like that you feel super engaged, super comfortable, and you're along for the journey.

Satvinder Sehmbeey

University of the Arts London

“ We loved having Debra as our official purple carpet host at The Mainstream Ones To Watch awards. She brought such warmth and added excitement for all of our guests who were celebrating with us!

Remel London

The Mainstream

“ Debra's hosting is engaging, intentional, and able to really capture the audience. She has a really strong presence and is able to be spontaneous and capture different moments. Her warmth engages the audience to clap, to laugh, and be a part of whatever is going on onstage.

Haben Abraham

Black Valley

get in touch

Book Debra to host your next event, panel, or conversation by emailing info@debrachosen.com, or click the button below.

book debra

 @debrachosen

 Debra Harper

 Trusting the Process Podcast

www.debrachosen.com